QP Qualified Person
& Professional
Development Training

Qualified Person

Tuesday 15 September 2009

York Marriott Hotel, York, UK

FREE SEMINAR

University of
Strathclyde

Background

---

Since 1990, David Begg Associates and the University of Strathclyde have collaborated to present a structured, modular training course designed for people wishing to become Qualified Persons.

Over the years the course has grown to the point where it now enjoys an unrivalled reputation within the pharmaceutical industry.

Moreover, increasing numbers of companies in Europe and North America are now using these modules, individually, collectively or in conjunction with our other courses to provide structured, high quality modular technical training for their managers as part of a professional development plan.

The Benefits

To the Prospective Qualified Person...

Unsurpassed success rate:

- Over 95% of our delegates are successful at interview
- Over 180 people have achieved qualification status through training with David Begg Associates

Strong, practical, industrial focus:

- We provide the detailed knowledge you really need to act as a QP

Flexibility to meet your requirements:

- You can start and finish your training with us at any time, rather than being tied to a set series of training

International recognition:

- Our training is recognised by the Irish Medicines Board, the Dutch Regulatory Authority and other EU countries

To other Pharmaceutical Technical Personnel...

Intensive, high level technical training:

- We provide detailed training in areas of key importance to developing managers, including:
  - Pharmaceutical quality management
  - Formulation, processing and analytical challenges for the major dosage forms
  - Managing technical problems

Strong management focus:

- We prepare you to deal with situations and people, not simply to analyse facts and figures

Career development:

- We aim to help you to realise your true potential within your organisation, allowing you to maximise your contribution to the success of the business

Contacts and networking:

- You will build links and friendships which will benefit you throughout your career
